Entrepreneurial orientation, communication strategies, and new product success: a theoretic model.

Chun-Lan Chang.

Academy of Strategic Management Journal.

14.1 (Jan. 2015) p1. Word Count: 9538.

Although entrepreneurial orientation and communication both benefit new product development, little attention understands their relationship. According to the resource-based view and contingency theory, this study builds...

BASIC SEARCH

The screenshot shows the ProQuest Basic Search page. At the top, a blue navigation bar contains the text "Searching: 4 databases" with a dropdown arrow, and links for "Recent searches", "Selected items", "My Research", and "Exit". Below this, a secondary navigation bar includes "Basic Search", "Advanced" (with a dropdown arrow), "Publications", and "Browse". The main content area features the ProQuest logo on the left and a search bar on the right. The search bar has a "Full text" checkbox checked and a "Peer reviewed" checkbox unchecked. To the right of the search bar is an "Advanced search" link. Below the search bar, there is a section titled "Learn about the all-new ProQuest platform" with four bullet points: "Search the online Help.", "Learn about search syntax changes in the new ProQuest.", "Discover answers to common questions at ProQuest's Product", and "Got an uncommon question? Contact our Customer Support Team". On the right side of the page, a "Preferences" dropdown menu is open, showing a list of languages. A light blue callout box with a pointer to the "Bahasa Indonesia" option contains the text "Pilihan bahasa pengantar (Indonesia)".

The screenshot shows a ProQuest database search results page. At the top, a search bar indicates 'Searching: 4 databases'. Below the search bar, there are tabs for 'Basic Search', 'Advanced', 'Publications', and 'Browse'. A list of 'Related subjects' is displayed, including 'Management', 'Management AND Strategy', 'Management AND Strategic Management', 'Management AND Knowledge management', and 'Management AND Risk management'. The search results show '633 Results *'. On the right side, there are options to 'Create alert', 'Create RSS feed', and 'Save search'. Below the search results, there are options to 'Save to My Research', 'Email', 'Print', 'Cite', and 'Export/Save'. The first result is 'Strategy in the Battle of Britain and strategic management theory' by Grattan, Robert F. The second result is 'A strategy-based ontology of knowledge management technologies' by Saito, Andre; Umemoto, K; Iikeda, Mitsuru. The third result is 'The external environment and strategy: A complexity theory approach' by Roger B. Mason, Un. The page also features a 'Sort results by' dropdown menu set to 'Relevance' and a 'Narrow results by' section with options for 'Full text', 'Peer reviewed', and 'Source type'. The page is annotated with several callouts: a pink callout pointing to the 'Selected items' section with the text 'Hasil penelitian yang dipilih diberikan tanda ✓ untuk disimpan'; a pink callout pointing to the 'Strategy in the Battle of Britain and strategic management theory' link with the text 'LINK judul artikel akan menampilkan data untuk dicetak atau dikirim ke email'; a pink callout pointing to the 'Citation/Abstract' link for the first result with the text 'Abstrak saja'; a pink callout pointing to the 'Full text' link for the first result with the text 'Artikel full teks html'; and a pink callout pointing to the 'Full text - PDF' link for the first result with the text 'Full teks dengan PDF'.

Strategic integration of knowledge management and customer relationship management

Chor-Beng Anthony Liew

Chor-Beng Anthony Liew is based at Capital Motors Inc. (Mercedes-Benz Dealership, Taiwan), Taipei, Taiwan.

Abstract

Purpose – The purpose of this paper is to introduce the concept of strategic integration of knowledge management (KM) and customer relationship management (CRM). The integration is a strategic issue that has strong ramifications in the long-term competitiveness of organizations. It is not limited to CRM; the concept can also be applied to supply chain management (SCM), product development management (PDM), enterprise resource planning (ERP) and retail network management (RNM) that offer different perspectives into knowledge management adoption.

Design/methodology/approach – Through literature review and establishing new perspectives with examples, the components of knowledge management, customer relationship management, and strategic planning are amalgamated.

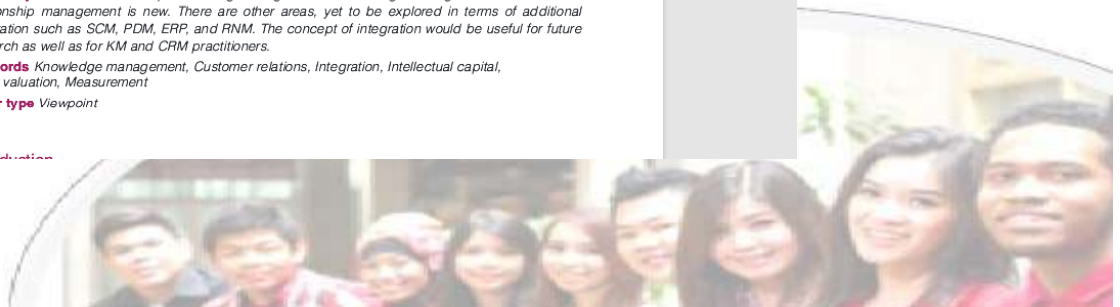

Findings – Findings include crucial details in the various components of knowledge management, customer relationship management, and strategic planning, i.e. strategic planning process, value formula, intellectual capital measure, different levels of CRM and their core competencies.

Practical implications – Although the strategic integration of knowledge management and customer relationship management is highly conceptual, a case example has been provided where the concept is applied. The same concept could also be applied to other industries that focus on customer service.

Originality/value – The concept of strategic integration of knowledge management and customer relationship management is new. There are other areas, yet to be explored in terms of additional integration such as SCM, PDM, ERP, and RNM. The concept of integration would be useful for future research as well as for KM and CRM practitioners.

Re-defining 'Reading' in the 21st Century: Accessing Multimodal Texts

Alexius Chia, Caroline Chan

Abstract

The act of reading has been made more complex in the 21st century with the proliferation of multimodal texts. Organizations like the 'Partnership for 21st Century Skills' and researchers like the New London Group (1996), Hull & Nelson (2005) and Kress et al (2006) argue for the need for schools to re-look at the ways our children become literate in this and media-driven environment. Teachers too live with this reality and can appreciate the fact that not everything they learn can be found in the textbook. However, many do not possess the knowledge and skills to harness the media and technological tools for use in the language classroom. In order for teachers and learners to be effective users of texts in the 21st Century, we argue that a framework is needed to assist them. Hence this article proposes a framework called the 6 Semiotic Modes (Chan & Chia, 2014 adapted from Anstey and Bull, 2010). They include Linguistic, Audio, Spatial, Oral, Visual and Gestural modes and are used as tools to unlock the meaning behind different types of multimodal texts needed for teaching and learning.

Evaluasi Untuk Sumber Informasi Online

Sumber informasi di perpustakaan (koleksi tercetak/buku) biasanya lebih mudah untuk dievaluasi karena telah di review sebelumnya/kredibel

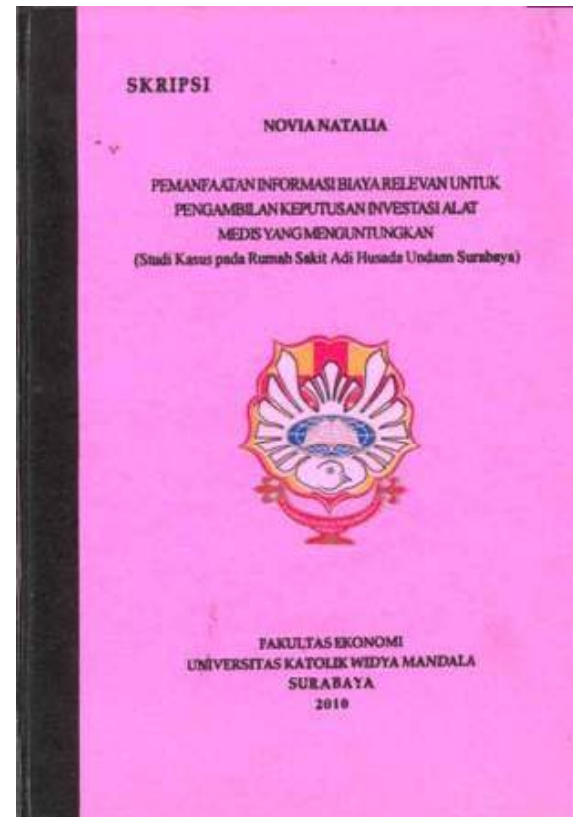

Sumber informasi dari Internet yang tersedia bebas-biasanya tidak melewati proses peninjauan, sehingga perlu melihat ini lebih dekat melalui evaluasi

Menurut Lukman PDII-LIPI 2015

Berikut ini hal yang paling penting dilakukan ketika membuat suatu karya ilmiah antara lain

1. Melakukan penelusuran literatur ke beberapa database terkemuka, sehingga dapat membuat perkembangan penelitian yang dilakukan (State of the art), dan penelitian yang dihasilkan memiliki Kebaruan (novelty).
2. Membuat catatan detail terkait dengan sumber yang akan kita gunakan dalam penulisan, terkait dengan, siapa penulisnya, kapan diterbitkan dan dimana. Hal ini dilakukan di awal bukan di akhir ketika menyelesaikan sebuah karya ilmiah.
3. Menggunakan gaya penulisan dan referensi standar sesuai dengan yang diminta seperti harvard, chicago, turabian dan lainnya, jangan pernah mencampur adukan gaya penulisan.
4. Menggunakan aplikasi referensi dalam pengutipan dan pembuatan daftar referensi atau bibliography seperti mendeley, zotero, refwork dan endnote.
5. Membuat pernyataan jelas jika akan menyalin langsung, mengutip (pharaprasing) atau meringkas (summarizing).
6. Jangan pernah mengutip referensi yang tidak jelas atau lengkap sumbernya sebaik apapun isinya
